- (d) the Customer Claim arises from software not created by Salus, or
- (e) the Customer Claim results from Customer's breach of this Agreement and/or applicable Order Forms.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a Customer Claim, Salus, at its discretion, option and expense, reserves the rights to:

- (a) modify the Platform to make it non-infringing provided there is no material loss of functionality;
- (b) settle such claim by procuring the right for Customer to continue using the Platform; or
- (c) if in Salus's reasonable opinion neither (a) or (b) are commercially feasible, terminate the license to the Platform and refund a pro-rata portion of the amount paid by Customer for the unused portion of the Subscription Term.

10.2 Customer will defend Salus and its Affiliates against any claim, demand, suit or proceeding made or brought against Salus by a third party alleging:

(a) that any Customer Content or Customer's use of Customer Content with the Platform or any software (or combination of software) provided by Customer and used with the Platform, infringes or misappropriates such third party's intellectual property rights, or

11.2 To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, the total liability of each party and its affiliates and licensors arising out of or related to this agreement, whether based in contract, tort (including negligence or strict liability), or otherwise, will not exceed, in the aggregate, the total amount paid by customer or its affiliates hereunder in the one year period preceding the first incident out of which the liability arose. The foregoing limitations will apply notwithstanding any failure of essential purpose of any limited remedy, but will not limit customer's or its affiliates' payment obligations under the "payment of fees" section above.

13. FORCE MAJEURE

13.1 Salus and Customer will not be liable for any default or delay in the performance of their respective non-monetary obligations, to the extent that such default or delay is caused, directly or indirectly, by fire, flood, earthquake, explosions, elements of nature, acts of God, acts or regulations of government bodies, nuclear, chemical or biological contamination, court orders arising out of circumstances other than a breach of this Agreement by the Non-performing Party (as defined below), acts of war, terrorism, riots, civil disorders, rebellions or revolutions, strikes, lockouts or labor difficulties, epidemics or by any other event or circumstance that is beyond the reasonable control of Salus or Customer. The party that is unable to perform shall be referred to as the “Non-performing Party”. Such an event or circumstance giving rise to the default or delay is hereby referred to as a “Force Majeure Event”.

13.2 The Non-performing Party will be excused from any further performance of the non-monetary obligations affected by such Force Majeure Event for as long as such Force Majeure Event continues and the Non-performing Party continues to use commercially reasonable efforts to resume performance.

13.3 Except as expressly excused in this Section 13, each party will continue to perform its respective obligations under this Agreement during a Force Majeure Event.

14. SECURITY / DATA PROTECTION

14.1 Without limiting Salus’s obligations as stated in Section 7 (Confidentiality), Salus shall be responsible for establishing and maintaining a commercially reasonable information security program that is designed to:

- (a) ensure the security and confidentiality of the Customer Content;
- (b) protect against any anticipated threats or hazards to the security or integrity of the Customer Content;
- (c) protect against unauthorized access to, or use of, the Customer Content; and
- (d) ensure that all subcontractors of Salus, if any, comply with all of the foregoing.

In no case shall the safeguards of Salus’ information security program be less stringent than the information security safeguards used by Salus to protect its own commercially sensitive data. Customer shall use commercially reasonable security and anti-virus measures when accessing and using the Platform and to prevent unauthorized access to, or use of the Platform, and notify Salus promptly of any such unauthorized access or use of which it becomes aware.

14.2 With respect to the protection of information, the Salus Privacy Policy located here [\[link\]](#) shall apply. To the extent Personal Data from the European Economic Area (EEA), the United Kingdom and Switzerland are processed by Salus, the Standard Contractual Clauses shall apply. For the purposes of the Standard Contractual Clauses, Customer and its applicable Affiliates are each the data exporter, and Customer's acceptance of this Agreement, and an applicable Affiliate's execution of an Order Form, shall be treated as its execution of the Standard Contractual Clauses.

14.3 The parties acknowledge and agree that:

- (a) the Platform is not designed for the purpose(s) of storing, processing, compiling or transmitting Sensitive Data (as defined herein), and
- (b) Customer shall not use the Platform, or otherwise provide to Salus without prior written consent, Sensitive Data under this Agreement.

14.4 To the extent Customer has Users located in the People's Republic of China, Customer represents and warrants that it has complied with all requirements of a "personal information processor," as that term is defined under the Personal Information and Protection Law of the People's Republic of China ("PIPL"). This includes the requirement to provide adequate notice and obtain all necessary consents from relevant Users prior to the overseas transfer and processing of Personal Data by Salus, as well as onward transfers and processing by Salus's third-party subprocessors. In addition, Customer warrants, where required, that it will not transfer Personal Data without a security assessment, as described in PIPL, from the Cyberspace Administration of China. Nothing in this section limits Salus or Customer's obligations under the DPA.

15. MISCELLANEOUS

15.1 If any provision of this Agreement is found to be unenforceable or invalid, that provision will be limited or eliminated to the minimum extent necessary so that this Agreement will otherwise remain in full force and effect and enforceable.

15.2 This Agreement is not assignable, transferable or sublicensable by either party without the other party's prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed; provided that either party may transfer and/or assign this Agreement to a successor in the event of a sale of all, or substantially all, of its business or assets to which this Agreement relates.

15.3 This Agreement is the complete and exclusive statement of the mutual understanding of the parties and supersedes and cancels all previous written and oral agreements, communications and other understandings relating to the subject matter of this Agreement. All waivers and modifications must be in a writing signed or otherwise agreed to by each party, except as otherwise provided herein.
